

Bid High at Not Just Desserts' Food for Thought Silent Auction

Mark Saturday, May 3, from 6:30-8:30 PM on your calendar for the Sudbury Education Resource Fund's (SERF) annual food and entertainment extravaganza, Not Just Desserts, at Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School. More than 40 area restaurants, bakeries, caterers, and beverage providers are contributing some of their best dishes, and students from several of Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School's jazz ensembles will serenade diners during the evening.

The event also features a "Food for Thought" silent auction with several unusual food-related items, including a kitchen redesign from Encore Construction Company, a family weekend at Bosse Sports (including time with a golf and tennis pro and babysitting), a cooking class with Chef Tom Kaepeswert of Sweet Pepper Thai Cuisine, a membership in Sudbury's Siena Farm CSA, and a loaf of bread a week from Nashoba Brook Bakery. There are also a variety of gift certificates from Bison Country, Concord Teacakes, Currier & Chives, Dalya's Restaurant, Elephant Walk, Harvard Sweet Boutique, Idylwilde Farm, MacKinnon's Liquors, Quarterdeck Seafood, The Gathering Kitchen, Thunder, Twin Seafood, Verrill Farm, and Wildwood Restaurant, as well as a pair of sunglasses from Optical Place and a custom-made shirt from Post Road Clothier.

All proceeds from the event will provide grants to teachers and programs that enrich, enhance and support the Sudbury and Lincoln-Sudbury School districts. The event is supported by the Edward & Janet Gildea Foundation and Sudbury Farms, as well as many generous businesses and individuals in Sudbury and Lincoln.

Advance-purchase tickets are $20 for adults and $5 for students; children under 5 are free. Tickets at the door are $25 for adults, so order ahead. There is also still time to become an event sponsor. To become a sponsor or to purchase tickets, visit www.serf.sudburyconnection.com. For more information, e-mail njd@sudburyEdResource.org
